Young Lo Pan Award Presentation Ceremony 2019

Hong Kong · 15 July 2019 – Today the 13th day of the 6th month of the lunar calendar is Lo Pan Patron's Day. Organised by Hong Kong Kwong Yuet Tong and co-organised by the Construction Industry Council, the Vocational Training Council and the Hong Kong Institute of Construction Managers, the "Young Lo Pan Award Presentation Ceremony" was held this morning at the Lo Pan Temple, which is located at Ching Lin Terrace, Kennedy Town. The Award aims to recognise young talents with outstanding performance and dedication in the construction industry, as well as to encourage more potential young people to join and ultimately contribute to the construction industry. The Ceremony was officiated by Mr. Michael WONG, Secretary for Development, HKSAR.

The Young Lo Pan Award includes three categories: "Engineering Management", "Skilled Practitioners" and "Construction Crafts". The awardees were selected based on their management or skill performance at work, continuing studies, knowledge and integrity on safety work procedures and interview performance, etc. The judging panel was composed of members from both the organiser and co-organisers. A number of awards were presented this year, including ten "Young Lo Pan" awardees, nine "Construction Crafts" awardees, "Occupational Safety and Health Award", "Construction Manager Award", "Construction Award" as well as the "Excellent Young Lo Pan Award" for the Young Lo Pan awardee with the highest scores among all and the "Excellent Construction Crafts Award" to be presented for the most outstanding winner among the construction crafts awardees.

Mr. Teddy KWOK, winner of this year's "Excellent Young Lo Pan Award", at his sharing, expresses his sincere gratitude for being awarded and he also commits to strive for his best and dedicates more for the construction industry.

A total of two female candidates were awarded with "Young Lo Pan Awards" this year, showing that female practitioners can also perform with excellence.
